PRESENTATION

PEEL-OFF MASKS KESAKO ?

More than 20 years ago, Technature sought to conquer the Peel-off masks. Thanks to a unique know-how, a perfect mastery of the alginate gelling process and a strong production and innovation capacity, Technature has become the world leader in the manufacture of Peel-off masks.

The Peel-off mask, is a powder mask that transforms into a perfectly homogenous gelled film.

The originality of this mask? Its elastic texture!

In contact with water, the ultra-fine powder of the peel-off masks rubberizes thanks to their high alginate content: a natural substance derived from brown algae. From the first 5 minutes, this creamy paste turns into a mask that provides a unique sensation of freshness and comfort.

With a second skin effect, it perfectly fits the contours of the face and neck while diffusing the benefits of its active ingredients. After a period of application, the mask can be easily peeled off in one piece.

ZOOM ON MARINE ALGINATE

Alginate is a polysaccharide, extracted from alginic acid, a liquid present in the cell walls of brown seaweed.

Once harvested, the seaweed is cleaned with water, cut up and then macerated to remove the mineral salts and retain only the alginic acid. Alginic acid, a natural polymer, is a mixture of acids: polyuronic, D-mannuronic and L-guluronic, present in the cell walls of brown seaweed (Pheophyceae). The cell walls are generally rich in pectic compounds: alginates. Most of the alginates are found in thallus in the form of gels: sodium, calcium and magnesium alginate. The gels obtained have a quality and texture that can be easily modulated. They can be used as thickeners, gelling agents, stabilizers and homogenizers.

In peel-off masks, alginate is used as a gelling agent. Appreciated for its film-forming properties and for its ability to form creamy processing preparations, alginate is the essential ingredient in peel-off masks.

PROPERTIES OF THE INGREDIENTS

PhytoCellTec™

PhytoCellTec™ Malus Domestica is a liposomal active ingredient based on stem cells from the Uttwiler Spätlauber apple. This rare Swiss apple variety, derived from a seedling planted in the middle of the 18th century, was very famous for its excellent storability without shriveling. This explains why this active ingredient has been developed to exploit its youth secrets. Its action is based on the key role of skin stem cells on the quality of the skin. This booster active ingredient re-energizes the skin that regains its vitality.

Lightening plant complex

This active ingredient is composed of plant extracts of saxifrage, scutellaria, grape and white mulberry, which act synergistically to reduce the activity of tyrosinase, an enzyme involved in the synthesis of melanin. It makes the skin more radiant, unified and reduces pigmentary defects (In vitro tests).

RITUAL OF BEAUTY

Pour 100ml of water at 20°C in the shaker and add the 25g powder sachet. Shake vigorously for few seconds until the mixture is «silent».

Immediately apply the paste on the face avoiding the eyes contour. Leave it for about 10 minutes, and then peel it off in one piece.
